

Writing and publishing in the Law of the ECHR: A workshop for early career researchers

Academy for European Human Rights Protection, University of Cologne jointly organised with Essex Law School, University of Essex

Monday 26 February 2024

Academy for European Human Rights Protection, University of Cologne, Kerpener Str. 30, 50937 Köln

Programme of the Workshop

9.00– 9.30 Arrival and registration

9.30 – 9.45 Welcome and Introduction

Angelika Nußberger (Cologne) and Nikos Vogiatzis (Essex)

9.45-10.45 How to Write Articles in the Law of the ECHR

Natasa Mavronicola (Birmingham) and Cathérine Van de Graaf (Cologne)

Chaired by Júlia Miklasová (Cologne)

Coffee Break

11.00-12.00 Different Methodologies in the Law of the ECHR

Veronika Fikfak (UCL) (empirical research) and Giuseppe Martinico (Sant'Anna)
(comparative research)

Chaired by Sabina Garahan (Essex)

12.00-13.00 What kind of Articles are Editors Interested in? Insights from Editors of ECHR Journals

Kanstantsin Dzehtsiarou (Liverpool) and Katharine Fortin (Utrecht)

Chaired by Nikos Vogiatzis (Essex)

Lunch Break

14.00 – 15.30 Presentation of Developing Ideas and Work in Progress in Group Discussions
Introduced by Reza Khabook (Cologne)

Coffee break

15.45 – 16.45 What do Judges or Members of Other Organs of the Council of Europe Read? How to Bring Legal Research to the Attention of the European Court of Human Rights?

Angelika Nußberger (Cologne) and Ana Vilfan-Vospersnik (Directorate of the Jurisconsult, ECtHR)

Chaired by Frederic Kupsch (Cologne)

16.45 – 17.00 Concluding Remarks

Reza Khabook (Cologne) and Frederic Kupsch (Cologne)

Organising Committee

Angelika Nußberger, Professor and Director, Academy for European Human Rights Protection, University of Cologne; Member and former Vice-President, Venice Commission; former Vice-President, European Court of Human Rights.

Nikos Vogiatzis, Senior Lecturer (Associate Professor), Essex Law School, University of Essex; Senior Humboldt Fellow, Academy for European Human Rights Protection, University of Cologne.

Reza Khabook, Doctoral Researcher, Academy for European Human Rights Protection, University of Cologne.

Frederic Kupsch, Doctoral Researcher, Academy for European Human Rights Protection, University of Cologne.

If you have any questions about the workshop, the different sessions or the host institution please feel free to email: workshop-echr@uni-koeln.de

Funding Statement

The workshop is jointly funded by Essex Law School, University of Essex and the Academy for European Human Rights Protection, University of Cologne